always the best climate

Design that lets fresh air belong to the room

From the very beginning, ComfoGrid grilles were created to bring more beauty, identity and consistency into ventilation design. They are not designed as purely technical components, but as visible elements that belong naturally in the room.

ComfoGrid turns fresh air into a quiet, confident presence — an anchor for comfort and peace of mind. Each grille balances refined aesthetics with smart engineering, combining form, function and flair in a way that feels effortless.

Designed for people, not just performance

Great design doesn't happen in isolation. From the start, the ComfoGrid portfolio was shaped by listening — to homeowners, designers, planners and installers.

We asked. And 117 people answered

In total, 117 people shared their preferences, expectations and ideas of what a grille should look like in a real interior. Their feedback helped us understand what feels timeless, what stands out, and what truly fits into a home.

The result is a portfolio with variety and clarity — different expressions, one consistent design language. So you can choose a grille that reflects your personal style and integrates seamlessly into the space you've carefully designed.

Because when a grille is the only visible part of a ventilation system, it deserves to do more than perform well. It deserves to help your space look and feel its best

Classic Line

Timeless design. Everyday reliability.

The Classic Line brings together familiar shapes and refined details in a timeless design language inspired by Italian cities. These grilles are designed to blend in naturally, offering a clean, confident look that works across a wide range of interiors.

■ Every pattern in every shape and finish

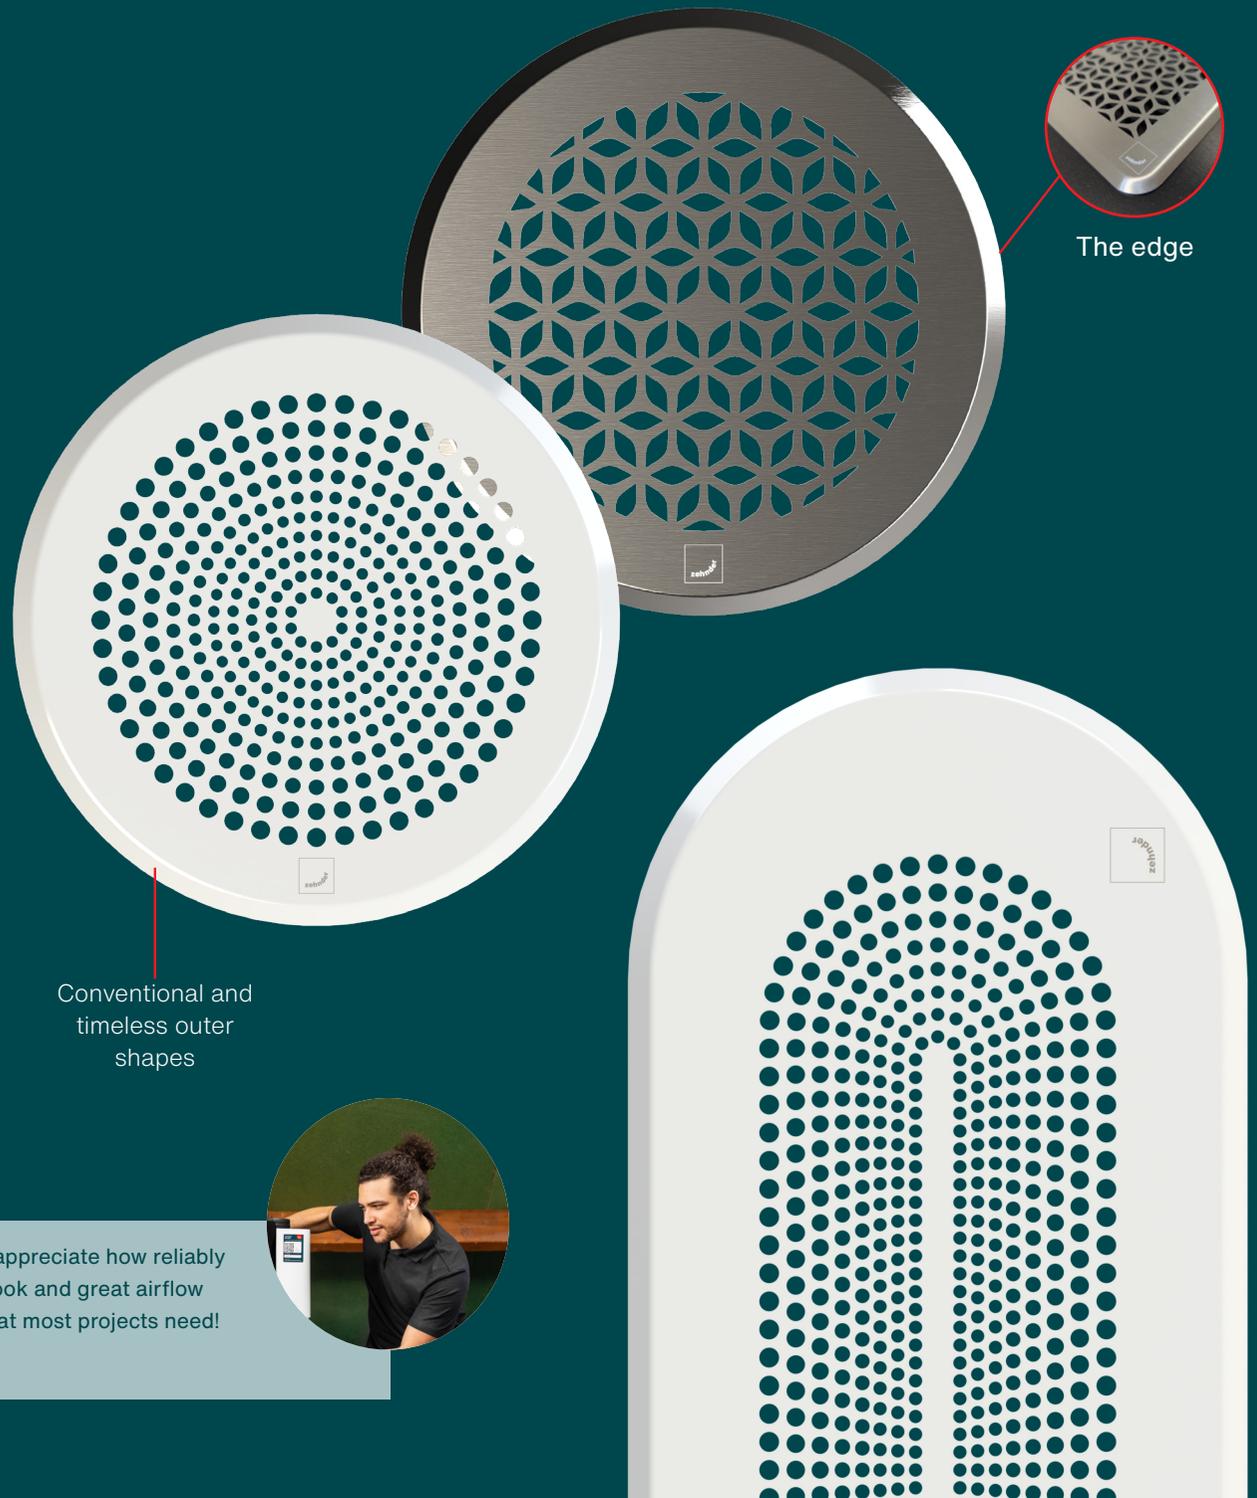

With every pattern available in multiple shapes — round, rectangular and oval — and in matching finishes, the Classic Line makes it easy to achieve visual consistency throughout a space.

■ Confidence in every detail

The Classic Line is ideal for those who value thoughtful design and reliable performance: grilles that look considered, install easily, fit precisely and perform quietly day after day.

■ A modern expression of a classic range

Subtle evolutions within the range, such as Milano and Bologna, introduce smarter detailing and improved airflow while staying true to the familiar character of the line. The result is a portfolio that feels both established and up to date.

The edge

Conventional and timeless outer shapes

Clients notice the design, but I appreciate how reliably it performs. You get a modern look and great airflow performance. That's exactly what most projects need!

Design Line

Designed to be seen

The Design Line is made for spaces where visual impact matters just as much as airflow. These grilles are designed to be seen — not hidden — and to add character to interiors where every detail counts.

■ A statement in every detail

Distinctive patterns, carefully considered proportions and a refined glass-look frame give the Design Line its unmistakable presence. The glass trim is more than a visual accent: it sharpens the contours, enhances the design and elevates the overall perception of the product.

■ For interiors that demand more

This line is for those looking to upgrade more than just performance. Whether in architectural spaces, high-end renovations or carefully curated homes, Design Line grilles bring a sense of refinement and confidence to the room.

■ Designed for wall and ceiling use

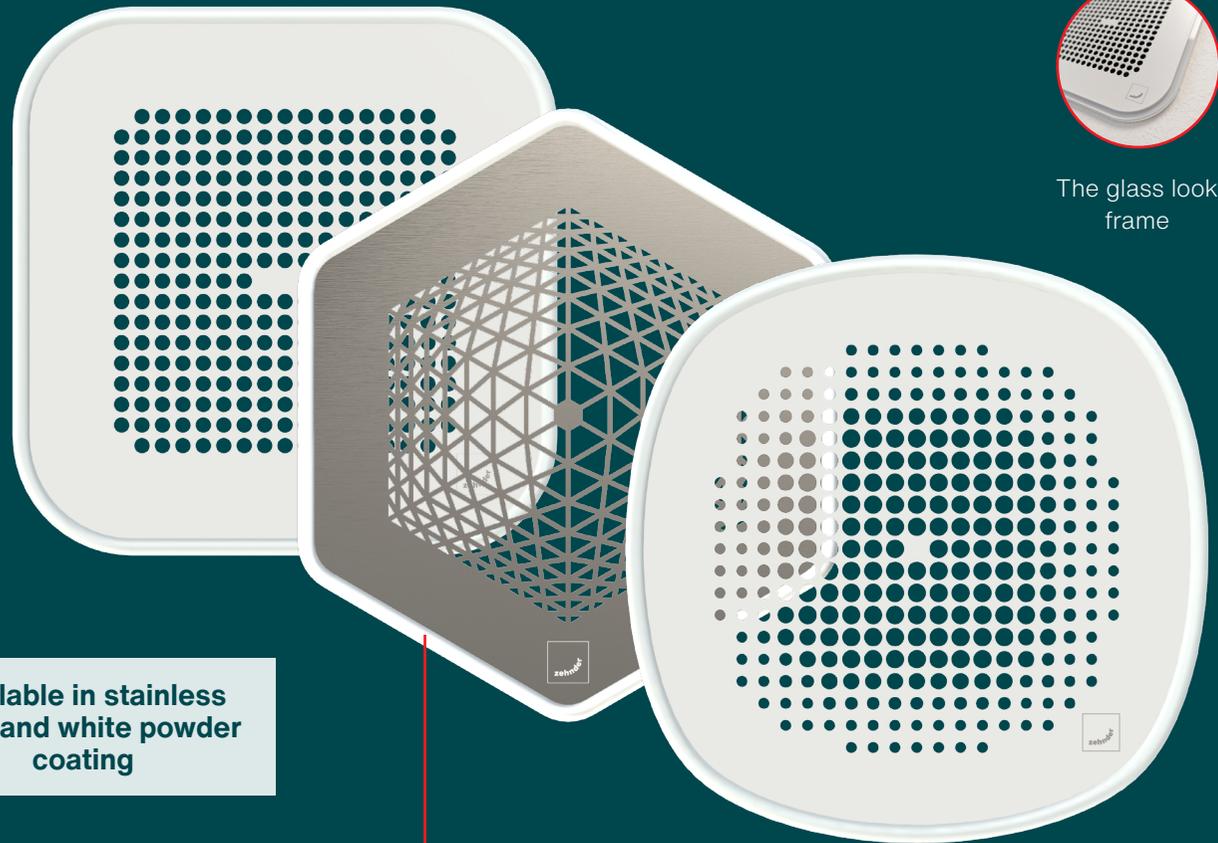

Due to the raised glass-edge frame, Design Line grilles are not suitable for floor installation. For these applications, a Classic Line grille with a flat edge is recommended.

Available in stainless steel and white powder coating

The glass look frame

It's rare to find grille that actually contributes to the aesthetic without overpowering the space. This balance is hard to achieve and Design line does exactly that.
